

MOROCCO & THE SOUTH OF SPAIN

The lands on either side of the Straits of Gibraltar have blossomed and been scarred by centuries of conflict between Berber, Moorish, Jewish and Christian civilisations. Today they are an example of tolerance and peace.

DAY 1: MARRAKECH Our tour commences today on arrival at Marrakech International Airport. Transfer to our hotel inside the Casbah. Welcome drinks and dinner in the hotel. [D].

DAY 2: MARRAKECH This morning we commence our exploration of this fascinating city, one of the four former Imperial capitals of Morocco. Outside the red or ochre walls which give the city its nickname 'the ochre city', there is a modern Western city with boulevards echoing the period of French control of Morocco. Then we explore the old city where the 12th century Koutoubia mosque's 77 metre minaret dominates the city skyline. We end at the Djemaa El Fna – the vast square in the heart of the old city. Hawkers, snake charmers, buskers.....enjoy. [B]

DAY 3: MARRAKECH A day trip through olive and Argan groves today to the Atlantic coast and the harbour town of Essaouira, with its 17th century Portuguese fort. The old medina is a UNESCO listed world heritage site. [B]

DAY 4: FES Moroccan Rail is certainly the best in North Africa, and today we take our First class seats in an air-conditioned carriage for a journey from the desert landscape of Marrakech through the fertile coastal farmland, the vineyards and orchards of

Meknes to another of Morocco's former imperial capitals, Fes. [B,D]

DAY 5: FES Fes was founded around 900AD and its medina – old city – is UNESCO heritage listed. Our sightseeing begins at the historic and beautiful Blue Gate this morning. Fes is considered the spiritual capital of Morocco: it has madressas - universities – that are a thousand years old, and a synagogue dating from the 17th century. [B]

DAY 6: FES A day to visit the souks and bargain for local leather goods and jewellery. The Medina al Bali, with many kilometres of winding pathways and thousands of shops, is one of the largest pedestrian-only urban areas on Earth. Be sure you have the hotel name written in Arabic to show to any teenager when (not if) you get lost. For a 20 dirham coin ($2) he will escort you home to the hotel. [B]

DAY 7: TANGIER On Moroccan Rail again today, back through the vineyards of Meknes to the most northerly point of Morocco – Tangier, on the Straits of Gibraltar. Its location at the mouth of the Mediterranean and its colourful history since its foundation by Carthage in the 5th century BC, make Tangier a truly cosmopolitan port city. [B,D]

DAY 8: TANGIER For the first half of the 20th century Tangier was an international zone partitioned between France, Spain and Britain. It is said to have been a hangout for spies, drug runners and international intrigue, and also the original setting for Rick and Ilsa and Sam in "Casablanca". The Hollywood moguls felt that the word Casablanca was more mellifluous (Would you go to a movie called "Tangier?"). Our city sightseeing takes in the medina and the harbour. [B]

DAY 9: TANGIER A visit today to one of Morocco's true gems: the blue city of Chefchaouen, a Berber stronghold high in the Rif Mountains, founded by Moorish exiles from Spain in the 1490's. Enjoy lunch or coffee in the tranquil main square. Back to Tangier this evening. [B]

DAY 10: SEVILLE Our intercontinental journey takes 35 minutes today on our ferry across the Straits of Gibraltar to Spain. We arrive in the historic city of Seville (probably the setting for more operas than any other city). [B,D]

DAY 11: SEVILLE A Moorish city, Seville was conquered by the Catholic King Ferdinand III in 1248. The Moorish architecture still dominates the city. The two centuries following Columbus' voyages were the Golden Age of Seville as all trade from the Americas passed through the city. Buildings from this era – the cathedral and the Plaza de Espana – feature in today's city sightseeing. [B]

DAY 12: SEVILLE We visit the Islamic Alcazar Palace this morning and the remainder of the day is free for shopping. [B]

DAY 13: GRANADA We take the high speed ATR train today, and stop over for a visit to Cordoba on the way to Granada. Our city sightseeing tour of Cordoba includes the UNESCO listed historic centre of Cordoba, shaped successively by the Romans, Arabs, Jews and Christians. The Moorish Catholic cathedral was formerly, and obviously, a mosque until the expulsion of the Moors in 1492. Later, our ATR delivers us to Granada where our luggage awaits our arrival. [B,D]

DAY 14: GRANADA Andalusia was under Moorish (Muslim) control from the 8th century until the expulsion of both Moors and Jews by the Catholic monarchs, Ferdinand and Isabella in 1492. Perhaps the greatest gift to the world from this period is the UNESCO listed Alhambra, with its inspiring Moorish architecture and beautiful squares, gardens and fountains. It is the focus of our city sightseeing today. [B]

DAY 15: GRANADA Today, we enjoy the magnificent Generalife Gardens. Then in the afternoon, wander the timeless streets to absorb the unique history of Granada. The Gothic Catholic cathedral containing the tombs of Ferdinand and Isabella, the Grand Via and the Hospital Real should be included in your strolling. [B]

DAY 16: MADRID As our luggage is taken on ahead, the high speed AVE train takes us to Spain's new (since 1561) capital, Madrid. Located in the borderlands between the historic enemies Aragon and Castille - joined with the marriage of Ferdinand and Isabella - Madrid was favoured by Philip II who moved his court there. [B,D]

DAY 17: MADRID Our city sightseeing tour introduces us to historic palaces and glass skyscrapers, Real Madrid's soccer stadium and an active bullfighting ring. It is a sprawling city of almost 7 million, a modern European capital. [B]

DAY 18: MADRID One of the world's great art galleries is the Prado in Madrid. Spain controlled Italy and the Netherlands long enough to gather a magnificent collection of Flemish and Italian Renaissance art. [B]

DAY 19: BARCELONA Our high speed AVE train delivers us quickly to Spain's second largest city Barcelona, the capital of Catalonia, where our luggage awaits. It was founded by the Romans, and has a proud spirit of independence from the rest of Spain. Catalan is the first language; Spanish the second. [B]

DAY 20: BARCELONA This morning's sightseeing begins with visits to the Mirador de Colon and the Placa Reial and winds up at Antoni Gaudí's unfinished masterpiece, La Sagrada Família cathedral. [B]

DAY 21: BARCELONA Barcelona lends itself to aimless wandering and people watching, and La Rambla ranks with Paris' Champs Elysees as the best place in Europe to do it. Later, take the funicular to the top of Montjuïc for a fine view of Barcelona and its harbor. Farewell Dinner tonight. [B,D]

DAY 22: FAREWELL Our tour ends after breakfast this morning. [B]
